STANDARD AND GUNNERS PLAY THE GAME SATURDAY

The Gunners seem to be doing a little better now as was demonstrated Saturday night when they held their last, stepping Standard team to a tie score 8-8. Earlier in the week at Standard the Gunners were defeated 7-6. At one time Saturday night the boys from the north were up three points to the horror of the local lads and ladies sitting on the bleachers. The Standard team has been strengthened by the addition of several Stubble Hopper players from the Crowfoot Creek area. The Stubble Hoppers sure hup around with speed to spare and with their many tricky plays worry the Gunners to no small extent.

The game was a clean one and the small crowd on deck had lots of fun. It was not as good an exhibition of hockey as in other years. We cannot expect good hockey this winter since most of the regular Gunners have left town and joined the army. Most of the team now consist of last year's players. The majority of whom are not really old enough to have had enough experience to play in senior hockey. Other towns are in the same fix and so we must make up our minds and enjoy the class of hockey we will see from now on or do without.

ARTHUR E. JONES DISTRICT OLD TIMER DIED FRIDAY MORNING

Following an illness of a few days Arthur E. Jones, an old timer of Gleichen since 1897, passed away at his residence early Friday morning.

Mr. Jones was born in Ireland 84 years ago and came to Toronto with his parents when he was four years old. In 1891 he joined the late Wm. Pearce and came west on the township survey. Leaving the survey party several years later he homesteaded near Regina.

In 1892 he joined the Indian department and served at Roberson, Blood and Blackfoot reserves. He was in 1907 that he came to Gleichen to take up his duties with the Blackfeet Indians as farm instructor at the Indian Camp which was to be school until 1923 when he retired and moved his family to Gleichen. Shortly after Mr. Jones got to Gleichen he built a home on the site now occupied by the Legion Hall where Mrs. Jones resided during the time the children attended school. This house was destroyed by fire about the year 1910. Mr. Jones built another house and several years later it was also destroyed by fire.

Despite his age he was young in appearance and a great walker, hunter and a crack shot. The Indians of the Blackfoot Reserve felt his department keenly. They say that in all the years he spent with them they found he never did a wrong to an Indian, never caused them trouble and was, their friend. The Indians thought so much of Mr. Jones that they sent a request that one of their chiefs be permitted to help carry him to his last resting place.

He is survived here by two sons, three daughters and one brother: Pie, Fred Jones of the Veterans guard at Kananaskis and Arthur, who is the C.N.R. engineering department at Calgary; Mrs. R. G. Byron-Johnson of Finlay, B.C.; Mrs. H. H. Lockyer of Vancouver and Mrs. C. G. Monash of East-Chester, N.S.; and his brother W. T. Jones who resides with his sisters Mrs. Byron-Johnson at Finlay. One son Charles predeceased him in 1937.

A short funeral service was held at the residence Saturday afternoon after which services were conducted in St. Andrew's church by Rev. L. T. Pearson. Interment taking place in Gleichen cemetery.

The pall bearers were Indian Chiefs Phillip Back Pat and Joe Crowfoot, and Messrs. S. Dufos W. Palmer, D. Wilson and W. James.

Among the floral offerings the following were noted Indian Chiefs and Blackfoot Band; Mrs. Good-earham; Mr. and Mrs. Beach; Mr.

TAXPAYERS MAY PAY INCOME TAXES BY INSTALLMENTS

For the first time in Canadian history income tax payers will be given the opportunity of meeting their payments on the installment plan, without interest, according to an announcement by the Income Tax Division of the Department of National Revenue. This is an important step, because income taxes now effect a greater number of people than ever before. Nearly one million Canadians must pay income taxes this year and the new plan has been devised to assist not only the new taxpayers, but also those who have been paying the tax for some time and whose taxes have been materially increased. It also, will assist the taxpayer to continue purchasing car savings certificates and visit one night last week. On the total score for the two games the visitors were defeated. They took back with them the North Star Cup. As they will hold the cup this winter all games for the mug will have to be played in Strathmore. Arrowwood held this cup last season.

The annual meeting of the members of St. Andrew's Anglican Church will be held on Friday evening, January 24th, at 8 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Lockyer. As this is an important meeting of the church it is hoped that all members of the church will make a special effort to attend. Reports of the work in the church during the past year will be read and discussed.

Two cameras were stolen from H. Warner's car while it was parked on a street in Calgary Sunday evening. Howard thought he had locked his car but the thief soon found it was not locked. After opening the door the thief opened the locker in the dashboard and took out two cameras. One belonging to Campbell Evans was valued at $21 while Howard's was worth $25. The thief overlooked a roll of film in the same compartment.

Sunday morning about 11:30 a fire alarm brought the brigade and chemical engine to the garage of Tom Jones whose truck had taken fire from a short circuit. About the time the brigade arrived on the scene the fire had been brought under control by the use of a hose and a small hand extinguisher. The damage was confined mostly to the wiring just above the engine.

The Gleichen F.W.U. held their meeting on January 16 at the home of Mrs. J. A. McArthur with twelve members and two visitors present. Roll call was answered by "Why do you like Christmas?" Mrs. McArthur read a paper on Father Divine and the article by John Brown. The contest prize was won by Mrs. Kiri Sammons. The quilt is to be drawn for at the Meadowbrook Hall on Jan. 17th. The president presented Mrs.

FROM THE FILES OF GLEICHEN CALL TWENTY YEARS AGO

David McBean has left to attend the U.F.A. convention at Edmonton, after which he will go on to Prince Rupert for a trip, returning by way of Vancouver. He declared he would not turn back this time.

Many delegates from this district have gone to Edmonton to attend the U.F.A. convention.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Circle of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Henderson. The following officers were elected: Pres. Mrs. C. Bartish; secy. Mrs. Geo. W. Evans; trsas. Mrs. A. W. Bowles; program committee, Madama Barbach, Macdon and Matheson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Tegner, Mrs. M. Bohan and N. Bombberger have returned to Arrowwood from their trip to the coast.

The Gleichen hockey team heads the league. They have won every game they have played so far. In the last game they defeated Basano 5-2. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have arrived in Gleichen after their honeymoon from Cameron, Missouri, via Los Angeles. They are now at home at the Jones ranch south of town.

The following trustees were elected to fill the vacancies at the Arrowwood school, caused by the loss of Mr. Miller and F. Arny, Geo. Leith and Mr. Soper. President L. Webster of the hockey team led to spend a couple of months in California and Vice-Pres. R. M. McQueen will fill his position.

Manager Frank Scott of the hockey team left Monday to seek a new location and his position will be filled by Jim Gleason.

The town of Arrowwood is gaining in size almost every day. It has one of the best schools in Alberta, a well stocked general store, a busy garage that has good equipment and electric light, a meat market and lumber is being gotten to build a blacksmith shop. There are five dwelling houses on the town site.

Newton Hughes of Craigenton is preparing to move to his new place near Edmonton.

The destruction of 185 enemy planes in one day marked the turning point of the war. Hitler missed the opportune moment for the invasion of England. Military leaders with imagination find it good strategy sometimes to give an enemy some rope so as to destroy him.

It would appear that democratic countries cannot prosecute a war without a considerable quota of middle. Notwithstanding all mistakes, errors and loopholes, the betting on the final issue is in favor of the British Commonwealth.

The war will be long and tough while it lasts and tonight when it ends. To forestall distress, disorder and confusion, a plan should be ready to clap on as soon as the end comes. Even if work is available, thousands will not be able to settle down to it.

Ten million lives have been lost in the Sino-Japanese war. How short is a man's memory! It is but a short time since the death of Malville Cox in Japan. That he was deliberately thrown out the window as an act of terrorism is morally certain. Those who hold Chinese girls captive to rape them hourly, are capable of most anything. While we condemn atrocities in one theatre of war, by the sale of materials for munitions, we actively assist crime and cruelty in another. There is little choice between Yellow Devil, brutal Bolsheviks and German savages.

The old time German was of a good type, a good parent, citizen and friend, but later generations were trained in every sort of filthiness. It was an evil day for the world when Hitler craved out of the kitchen. The same may be said of Stalin and Mussolini. They are living examples of what may be expected when the crops of humanity come to the top. The intelligentsia are the first to

Red Cross Aid

Give Help To British Prisoners Of War In Germany

There is little doubt that every mother with a son reported in German prisons or camps has read this despatch. If he had read nothing else in the paper of that day, and not a few have demanded of Red Cross officials "Why is not the Red Cross doing something about it?"

London.—Sir Edward Grips, under-secretary for war, said in the House of Commons that United States authorities have been asked to verify reports from international Red Cross delegates that British war prisoners in Germany are being mistreated either by force, rationing or by being forced to work in violation of the Geneva convention of 1929.

To a suggestion that captured German airmen be used for clearing bomb debris in Britain, Sir Edward replied that because the enemy breaks the convention is no reason we should.

Had the anxious mothers read to the end of the little story, they would have seen that action had been taken, and no doubt, but it was followed up as vigorously as possible. Mothers of sons in German prisons and prison camps will find it easier to agree with the suggestion that German prisoners be put to clearing debris in Britain than with Sir Edward Grips' statement that because the Germans break Geneva conventions is no reason why we should break them also. It does make a enormous difference in our thinking as to whose ox is being gored.

The Red Cross has, in appealing for support, claimed wide powers as to possible help and comfort they, and they only, can give to prisoners of war in enemy hands. They have very wide powers, as they have and do exercise them, but when they are dealing with enemies that have never kept a pledge, who openly declare themselves outside of conventional law, the Red Cross has a gigantic task.

In theory, it is absolutely right that the British and Nazi pig-breeding in the U.S.A. to do likewise. It is difficult for the mothers of British and Canadian boys to be philosophical about it. One thing, the mothers of these boys can depend upon and that is that the Red Cross will do all it can, without joining the ranks of the pledge and oath breakers, to retrieve the situation. In the meantime, helping the Red Cross here and now will ultimately help the boys, let us hope and pray, before either their health or morale is impaired.

Battle With A Cobra

Small Lizard Wins In Fight And Kills Opponent

My postbag is continually illustrating the old dictum that the snakes of Africa are always coming south to new and strange. Here is the latest: A small rough-skinned lizard of the species known as Geckonotus was seen to kill a cobra in the bush near Unwana in Southern Rhodesia.

The lizard, which was only four inches long, lay front of the snake. Every time the snake struck the lizard moved like lightning and bit behind the head. After it had done this six times the snake collapsed. The lizard then walked cautiously round it and nipped it here and there. Evidently satisfied that the cobra was dead, it scuttled away as if in the presence of any consequence had happened. The snake, which was five feet seven inches long, was killed in less than 10 minutes.

In Britain we know little about snakes, but I have seen an adder violently attacked by a hedge sparrow, whose nest it threatened; and both adders and grass snakes have been killed by hedgehogs. The incident is narrated—London Spectator.

Surprise For Nazis

Dr. Goebbels' Nazi propaganda machine quite recently bragged that the so-called attacks were being brought to Britain by her knees from exhaustion. He will realize perhaps, as the Central Radio, that far from sending her knees she is just only getting into her stride. There are painful surprises in store for Hitler yet.

International Language

Prof. G. B. Browne of the University of Melbourne, Australia, believes that with the end of the war, English will become the international language, replacing French. He believes the next generation will be bilingual, everyone speaking his native language and English as a secondary international tongue.

Tale Of Two Cities

London More Alive Than Paris In Spite of Bombs

London always offered an interesting contrast to Paris. Both were mighty cities, but most visitors thought of the British capital as a dead and the French capital as gay. London, for all its size, gave the impression of insularity; Paris was cosmopolitan and at home to everybody. In London, the city was often spoken of as dingy. It was never that, except in its slum areas. But its staidness was its strength. Paris was more a city of the future. Its architecture suggested elegance; its streets were full of life. Its people were more and more colorful. Its architecture suggested elegance; its streets were full of life. Its people were more and more colorful. Few People Reap Much Benefit From Constructive Work They Do

"It would do YOU any good," said the short farmer to the tall farmer. The tall man, beaming with pride, had just swept a branny arm in the direction of a fifty-acre field of grain. That's what it looked like—just an ordinary, big field of grain. But in fact it was the tall farmer's field, and many thousands of trees. They could not be seen from the lane, but they were there, well rooted and advancing in the shelter of the grass. "No sir," the short man repeated, as if to emphasize his view "that his friend would do YOU any good."

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

Some are taking a gloomy view of the future of the prairie wheat industry. For myself, however, I feel optimistic and here are some of the reasons:

Methods have now been found that will permit flour to be "fortified" with the precious vitamin B. This will make bread more nutritious and should, of course, to increase bread consumption.

World population is steadily increasing at the rate of about one per cent per annum. This should call for an increased wheat consumption of at least 35 million bushels each year.

During the past twenty years the great trade routes of the world have been cluttered up with high tariffs, other man made artificial restriction. Will, I believe, after this war over the cost of "Old Order" of free international trade, and so to better fed and more satisfied people.

When the stupid harmful trade strangle—set up by Canada and other countries—are cleared away, then most definitely demand for wheat will increase, surplus will disappear, wheat prices will rise, because foreign goods will come into Canada more freely, then the cost of the things farmers have to buy will be reduced.

From information which the Crop Testing Plan is receiving it seems evident that farmers are hesitating about making their usual plans to purchase some better seed to improve this coming crop.

One can understand this hesitation, for so many different ideas are being expressed about what should be done about the next crop. Some think there may be a complete wheat holiday, or that acreage will be drastically reduced by government control. Some even think, when the war is over, that there is no future for wheat growing.

For my own part do not hold these views. I believe that almost all the present acreage should again be sown, for we shall most probably have a market this year in Canada and abroad for some 215 million bushels, which would require a crop of 250 million; and even the present acreage could easily grow a smaller crop than this.

If a sensible plan is made the world will require in the future, I believe, more Canadian wheat than it has taken in the past and so I suggest farmers should not hesitate to carry on as usual with the plan of using some good seed in order to maintain the value of their wheat crop.

after the crushing blows of tyranny. When Kaiser Wilhelm walked off a morning in the Targarten there was freedom and friendliness in Germany. Since the advent of Hitler and his gangsters, hatred is the order of the day, everyone is a potential spy, and you can't blow your nose without a permit.

There is no acceptable scheme of adjustment which could bring durable peace to Continental Europe. A gigantic exchange of populations would be a temporary expedient for racial hatreds and religious animosities. If they hate not their neighbor's language, they hate his religion, And, who could banish religious intolerance? Communism is not sounder by political rampant religious enmity and racial hostility. So goes the world in which the so-called friends are aware and lured.

What sorrow, disaster and suffering would have been avoided had Mr. Winston Churchill been at the helm before the storm got underway? Let us hope that he may survive to the end of the conflict. The only man in a public life with a sufficient driving power to take his place as General on Christian Stairs. "With either, the Empire is as safe as it is humanly possible to make it."
